

The government lives in fear of being criticized.
The parliament has passed a law, which allows the military and police to monitor social media platforms for anti-government and anti-military information.

Minus one coin for all players except government employees.

A union for journalists was founded.

Plus one coin for all players in the Media cluster.

Because of a critical post on social media you will be interrogated by the police.

Minus one coin for all players except government employees.
If you are a government employee, please roll again.

Incident: Digital Millennium Copyright Act takedowns are being misused to target free speech.

Minus one coin for all players.

A storm destroys the ICT infrastructure in rural areas.

Minus one coin for players living in rural areas.

Citizen journalists are the only ones who report on the spread of an infectious disease in a remote area.

Plus two coins for all citizen journalists.

A new media law leads to new license fees for publishers.

Minus one coin for all players in the Media cluster.

A journalist was successfully defended in a court trial.

Plus one coin for the journalist and the lawyer.

Citizen journalist took part in a mobile reporting workshop
— access to information is improved.

Plus one coin for all players.

Elections will take place shortly. Because of fear of violent conflict, social media is being blocked.

Minus one coin for all players.

An international social media platform has launched new data security measures that better protects users' personal data.

Plus one coin for employees of the social media platform and for all members of the Society cluster.

The International Social Media Company together with the Telecommunications Provider establishes a zero rating service that gives people the opportunity to access the social media platform and other websites without data charges.

Plus one coin for employees of the international Social Media Company, employees of the Internet service provider and everyone in the Society cluster.

A new fact-checking website operates very successfully and the quality of discussion on social media is rising.

Plus one coin for all players.

A group of activists calls for the release of an imprisoned journalist. The campaign was successful.

Plus one coin for all members of the media cluster as well as the lawyer and the employee of the digital rights NGO.

Minus one coin for the president and the head of the Domestic Intelligence Service.

The Digital Rights NGO "Free Internet for Everyone" successfully launches a petition for the release of imprisoned activists and citizens that were charged under the Communications Act of 2017.

Plus one coin for everyone except the president and head of the Domestic Intelligence Service.

A group of citizen journalists in the northern rural area launch a new citizen reporting platform targeted at citizens in local rural communities.

Plus one coin for citizen journalists and citizens from rural areas.

After Social Zero was established, a digital rights NGO published research showing that people who went online due to the new services, do not use any other websites except for those offered by the Social Zero App. They also fear that net neutrality has been harmed.

Minus one coin for employees of the international social media company, employees of the internet service provider and every player in the Society cluster.

The new "right to be forgotten" law leads to compensation requirements against media companies.

Minus one coin for all players.
Minus two coins for all journalists.

A national data storage regulation allows access to all user data from internet platforms by the police and other authorities.

Minus one coin for all players.

Your YouTube channel is running very successfully and you are making good revenue with you videos.

Plus one coin for you.

With over 80 % of the advertising market, the government is nearly the only revenue source for publishing houses, which gives the government influence over what is being reported.

Minus one coin for all players.

An international foundation gives out grants for several iHubs in your country.

Plus one coin for everyone from the Innovation cluster.

Journalists have to prove their qualifications, otherwise they are not allowed to work as a journalist.

Minus one coin for all journalists and citizen journalists.

A new crowdsourcing platform for investigative journalism is running very successfully, access to news and political background stories is improved.

Plus one coin for all players.

A consortium of international telecom companies invests in the national digital infrastructure.

Plus one coin for all players.

Plus two coins for all players in the Access cluster.

A big international media company becomes shareholder of a national publishing house and invests 8 Mio. in the expansion of the digital department.

Plus one coin for all players.

An international Internet giant launches a fellowship for digital journalism.

Plus one coin for all players.

A new digital network enforcement law was amended. Social media platforms have to take down content which is obviously unlawful.

Minus one coin for employees of the social media network.

A new anti-whistleblower-law passed in the parliament.

Minus one coin for all players.

The government sets up an open data program, which makes it easier for journalists to report about government spending.

Plus one coin for all players.

A consortium of international telecom companies invests in the national digital infrastructure.

Plus one coin for all players.

A new agreement between a national radio network and a citizen reporter organization allows citizen reporters to sell their work.

Plus one coin for all players.

A freedom of information law passed in the parliament.

Plus one coin for all players.

“Radio refugee” was founded in a refugee camp.

Plus one coin for all players.
Plus two coins for the refugee.

The government decides to invest in a one year plan for digital infrastructure for all parts of the country.

Plus one coin for all players.

A startup academy was founded with an additional program for digital media.

Plus one coin for players in the innovation and Media cluster.

The initiative Women@web was established.

Plus one coin for all female players.

Encryption is prohibited by a new law.

Plus one coin for government employees.
Minus one coin for all other players.

A new preacher appears on YouTube. With his massive reach he is inciting youth against minorities.

Minus one coin for all players.

The government agrees on a new plan to build a national firewall which includes the option of website blocking.

Plus one coin for government employees.
Minus one coin for all other players.

The computer of an investigative journalist was stolen and all his sources are revealed to the secret service and the police.

The journalist has to go to jail for one round, minus one coin for players in the Media cluster.

A study finds that the amount of hate speech and fake news on social media is growing rapidly.

Minus one coin for all players.

The biggest social media platform in the country grants the government access to user profiles.

Plus one coin for government employees.
Minus one coin for all other players.

Female journalists are suffering from cyber harassment and are not able to publish online without being attacked.

Minus one coin for all female players.

Visitors filing a visa waiver application are prompted to enter account names for social platforms. All your contacts are revealed.

Minus one point for journalists, citizen journalists, bloggers, lawyers and open net activists.

The government manages to fight for a new international submarine cable being connected to your national infrastructure.

Plus one coin for everyone in the Access cluster.

A curriculum for media and information literacy for schools was developed and launched by an NGO.

Plus one coin for all players in the Society cluster.

Go to jail, pay one coin, miss one round.

Go to jail, pay one coin, miss one round.	Go to jail, pay one coin, miss one round.	Roll again.

Roll again.

Citizens are downloading VPN services to circumvent Internet censorship.

Minus one coin for government employees.
Plus one coin for all other players.

A whistleblower leaks a document showcasing massive and systemized surveillance on citizens by the government.

Minus two coins for all government employees.

The national public service broadcaster announces 5 more languages to its national radio program.

Plus one coin for the Director of Public Service Broadcasting and all players in the Society cluster.

A new digital media curriculum is being developed and integrated into national school curricula.

Plus one coin for all players in the Society cluster.
Plus two coins for the Young Girl.

A new open source "Crops, climate and weather" app is being developed.

Plus one coin for the Farmer and Open Source Coder.

